MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Training

Matt:

1. I have read these critiques with great interest. It seems clear that the briefing of JOT wives is worthwhile and should be continued. I assume that you are following up to insure improvement of the Security and Medical phases of the briefing.

2. There once was a big gap between the Agency's admonitions to neither admit CIA employment nor to claim a fabricated employment. I thought this was no longer part of our instructions to employees and that we had evolved more sophisticated -- and realistic -- guidance. However, most of the critiques seem to reflect this as a major stumbling block. What are your recommendations?

3. Also, I judge the briefings would be even more valuable if they could be so scheduled as to occur almost simultaneously with EOD of the JOTs. If you agree, suggest you initiate the necessary arrangements.
